RE: Letter of Reference

To Whom it May Concern:

This is a letter of recommendation for JCOR Mechanical who was the Prime /Mechanical Contractor for the repair/replacement of the main boiler/mechanical system at the Colorado State Patrol Academy facility. The project replaced a forty year old boiler system at a law enforcement training facility on the Camp George West campus. This boiler heating system was completely removed and replaced with 6 package boiler units and 3 hot water heaters to accommodate the CSP training facility needs and operational requirements.

As the Facilities Manager for the Colorado State Patrol I am responsible for the construction and management of CSP facilities. I commend JCOR for the professionalism they portrayed during the project and for the coordination required to complete the project. The success of this mechanical systems repair/replacement project was dependent on the abilities of the prime mechanical contractor. The quality of construction and construction coordination was exceptional. JCOR had a tough project to complete/coordinate, the facility was fully occupied and operational during construction. JCOR responded appropriately to meet the needs and requests of the project and the project was completed within the tight time line and schedule.

I would recommend JCOR as a Prime Mechanical Contractor to any level of government or law enforcement agency requiring mechanical construction or renovation of a facility. CSP has used JCOR for minor mechanical repairs ($1,000-$5,000) to full renovations/construction ($100,000+) and they responded with the same attention, dedication and customer service. JCOR provides a quality job at fair prices and they strive to meet the needs of all parties involved. JCOR is registered with State Buildings Programs as a State approved contractor for CSP and other State agencies.
